LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY.

THE LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Postoffice at the end of each week is published officially in THE DAILY NEWS every Friday morning.

LOCAL MATTERS.

WE ARE under obligations to PETER MARONEY, of the steamer Kate, for his attentions.

PROVOST COURT.—There were no cases of interest before this Court yesterday.

DELEGATIONS TO CINCINNATI.—The several delegations from the City of Charleston—the Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Trade—have had a consultation, and have arranged to leave on their mission, in behalf of the great enterprise of connecting the two cities by rail, on the 8th or 10th of June next, via New York.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Messrs. JNO. S. RIGGS & Co. sold yesterday at their Brokers' Exchange, that building lot in Chapel-street, opposite the Northeastern Railroad, thirty feet front by one hundred and twelve feet deep, for $1010 (ten hundred and ten dollars). Also that three and a half story brick residence, west side of Church-street, next north of the First Baptist Church, containing twelve rooms, pantry and other conveniences, lot fifty-five feet on Church-street and two hundred and forty feet deep, but much out of repair, for $6775.

THE LADIES' FAIR, at Hibernian Hall, last night, was crowded to overflowing. The tableaux were superbly gotten up, and very well executed. "Hawthorne's Woe" and "Minerva's Death" were particularly fine. The mise en scene showed a thorough appreciation of LONGFELLOW. "The Village School" and "Rowena and Rebecca" were much admired. "The Literary Wife" was an admirable conception of the Bas Bleu, but the last tableau outshone them all. It represented "the new regime—how Cuffee and Dinah feel." The colored lady was dressed within an inch of her life in semi-bridal costume, putting on "airs," the gentleman, i. e. Cuffee, a consummate dandy, bedizened with jewelry, ogling the fair Dian through his lorgnette. In the background, two poor white "bucks," one wearing, up to her elbows in the soap-suds; the other ironing with one hand, holding the baby on the other arm. This last pantomime, we feel assured, needed no interpreter.

There will be another set of Tableaux to-night, and we advise all who have, and those who have not been there last night, to come and see them, and to be certain to bring their wives and little folks.

The music of the 6th U. S. I. Band was a great addition to the evening's entertainment.

The Apollonade was one of the leading features of the evening, and attracted a great many visitors. The two young gentlemen in charge of it acquitted themselves admirably. The "brick" is still there and may be looked through again to-night.

The Postoffice was in full blast, doing a big business. The way these fair officials dispatched the males was a caution.

The ice cream and soda water stands were well patronized.

EXCURSION OVER THE SOUTH CAROLINA RAILROAD TO AUGUSTA.—We had the pleasure, in common with some other gentlemen, of enjoying an excursion over the above road to Augusta, leaving this city on Tuesday morning and returning yesterday afternoon. The party consisted of the following persons:

Andrew Simonds, Esq., President of 1st National Bank and Director South Carolina Railroad; James Rose, Director, &c.; T. B. Clark, Director; T. D. Wagner, Rev. J. H. Honour, Geo. W. Williams, Hon. Wm. Alvin, S. W. Fisher, Secretary and Treasurer Charleston and Savannah Railroad; I. S. E. Bennett, Dr. J. E. Miles, Dr. J. H. Holbrook, A. R. Taft, C. V. Chamberlain, J. H. Baggett, Gen. W. S. Walker, Wm. Carrington, Charles L. Carrington, Lemuel Crane, J. E. Robinson, C. A. Chisolm, C. E. Berhans, William Leiby, J. Hopkinson, R. S. Burns, A. S. Hull, I. Ottolenghi, T. M. Hancock, P. J. Porcher, Henry Spanick, of the Courier, and others.

The excursion was a very pleasant one in all respects. The road seems in fine condition—much better, indeed, than could be expected, owing to the dreadful destruction of it by SHENAN. We observed particularly the fine, substantial manner in which the new track had been laid over that portion from Branchville to Aiken, and we learned that the entire new track from Aiken to Augusta will be shortly completed.

We stopped over the first night at the pleasant village of Aiken, and proceeded to Augusta in the morning, taking with us Wm. Gazeo, Jr., and Wm. Gazeo, Jr., proprietors of the Graniteville Factory. This Manufacturing Company have shown much enterprise since the termination of the war. They have, as we mentioned some time since, bought and are now putting up new machinery, and are making preparations for a much larger business than formerly. A short distance from Graniteville, directly on the railroad, the new Kalmia Mills are going up. From present prospects they bid fair to equal the largest in the State.

Augusta seems prosperous. We see there scarcely any trace of the war, and the noted enterprise of its citizens is visible in all directions. Our stay, however, in Augusta, was not long, and we were unable to see the city more than in a general view.

In the afternoon we returned to Aiken, where the good host of the Aiken Hotel, Mr. Sarven, had an excellent dinner prepared for us. And here we would speak commendingly of the management of this hotel. It is so exceedingly seldom that one going into the interior finds a place to stop where any kind of decent accommodations can be had, that when one is found we think it deserving of more than passing notice. Mr. Sarven is a very good and attentive landlord, and he and his amiable wife understand thoroughly how to make you comfortable. We make this special mention of the Aiken House because many persons, this summer, will be in quest of a healthful retreat, and we can assure them that they can visit Aiken and be well cared for.

TO ANDREW SIMONDS, Esq., the excursion party is particularly indebted for his clever management toward the general comfort of the party. The good things were furnished, of course, by Mr. PURCELL, of the Mills House. To Mr. BERHANS we are sure every one who went along will accord the praise that is due him. Mr. J. E. THOMAS, the Conductor, was pleasant and agreeable, and Mr. BRADLEY, the Engineer, was talked of by all, inasmuch as he "made the trip" as successfully and in as good time as could be done.

MILITARY PUNISHMENTS.—We—it would hardly be in place to say—enjoyed the opportunity recently of getting an insight into the modus operandi of military punishments. Wednesday morning, at the Citadel, within the inner enclosure, we saw about twenty gentlemen undergoing the penalty attendant upon absence without leave on the night previous. These gentlemen were compelled to spend a good portion of the morning in the beautiful exercise of perambulating an imaginary circle, each perambulator bearing upon his shoulder a respectable sized piece of pine wood. Yesterday evening, however, we were in the same place, an eye-witness of a mournfully ludicrous spectacle. Whilst the 6th Regiment of U. S. Regulars were drawn out in line on a dress parade, several prisoners were marched up in front of the line, and each delinquent reprimanded or sentenced, as the misdemeanor required; each one, of course, donning his chapeau when called forward.

As said ceremony was performed by the last culprit called upon, a head stood confessed in an entire and disgraceful state of hairless nudity, and the owner of the head, which bore a striking resemblance to a human billiard ball, was informed in military parlance that he had been found guilty of the crime of robbery, wherefore he was sentenced, first to be drummed out of the regiment, and next to undergo two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at hard labor. The prisoner was then seized upon by a file of guard, who suspended around his neck a rude necklace of thick twine, to which was attached a board, on which was written in letters of huge dimensions the single but expressive word, "ROBBERY." He was then marched along around the entire enclosure, with a bayonet projecting on each side of his so closely shaven head. The poor wretched creature made a vain and sickly attempt to play the facetious by inspecting the inscription upon the disgraceful necklace, but the smile faded ere it was born, and gave place to a look that a dog wears when caught in the act of purloining a bone. It was a spectacle in which the mournful and the ludicrous were so blended that we knew not whether to weep or smile. Being at a loss which to do, we did neither. Moral—"Thou shalt not steal."

Mr. Y. has been conducting the business for Mr. R. for over a year, and is thoroughly conversant with it. He has all the Fashion Magazines for June; GODEY, PETERSON, DEMOREST, &c.; all the papers and Reviews—Atlantic Monthly, Round Table—and, in fact, everything that pertains to this line of business. We wish Mr. VOGLER success in his new enterprise, knowing, as we do, that he fully deserves it.

A LEARNED GERMAN writer on sociology once very truthfully remarked, that the status of civilization of any community may be measured by the amount of soap they use. Our friend VON SANTEN, seeing the force of this observation, and, moreover, having the highest opinion of the social status of our city, has shown his faith by his work, in that he hath laid in a large and very choice assortment of soaps of all kinds. Call at his store and see for yourself.

The poet beautifully remarks: "Sweet are the uses of confectionery." To comment upon the passage were superfluous. We believe all of our readers, even the very youngest of them, know what these sweet uses are. The only question then to be put, is for the "local habitation" which the poet is said to give. Answers bard: "Go to VON SANTEN'S Bazaar, No. 290 King street, and there you will find the very nicest of French Confectionery, and bon-bons of all sorts and descriptions."

STANDARD HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICINES.—The Agent of Humphreys' Homoeopathic Specifics has received a very important addition to his list of Humphreys' Specific Homoeopathic Remedies in the shape of Specific No. 34, which cures diphtheria and ulcerated sore throat. These Specifics have obtained a wide celebrity among medical practitioners and are very largely used by them, being prompt, efficient, reliable and convenient. An extended advertisement in another column gives a list of the different specific, the diseases which they remedy, and the prices. The cases for family use are especially worthy of attention, and also the new department of veterinary specific. The headquarters of Humphreys' Specific Homoeopathic Medicine Co., is at 262 Broadway, New York.—Boston Traveller.

"Look on this picture, and then on that." Here you behold the idyllic step, The pale cheek, waiting form, Untasted food, and a social atmosphere Poisoned with the tales of aches, pains, Sleepless nights, and mental dependency. And here the cheer, waiting form, Elastic steps, craving appetite, forgotten cares, Genial thought and ambitious resolves. Show the contrast and mark the picture. And here the scene, "The Doctor, Unknown to Quackenbush's, the Doctor, Smith had taken bottles three Of DR. KEE'S PLANTATION BITTERS.

PROCEEDINGS OF COUNCIL.

SPECIAL SESSION.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, May 24.

Connoil met at five o'clock. Present.—The Mayor, Aldermen RAVENEL, GERDTS, STEINMEYER, OAKES, MARSHALL, ENSTON, WHILDEN, COSGROVE, BUTLER, EARLE, and PRINGLE.

The Mayor announced that, pursuant to a resolution passed at last Regular Meeting of Council, the first business this evening before Council is the appointment of a Board of Managers for City Election.

On motion of Alderman RAVENEL, the Aldermen of the respective Wards were severally called upon to nominate candidates, and the following were announced:

Ward No. 1.—Messrs. A. J. Burke, J. D. Miller, and Charles Love.

Ward No. 2.—Messrs. W. H. Easterly, J. L. Yates, and M. Bolger.

Ward No. 3.—Messrs. James A. Duffus, W. P. Knox, and E. H. Locke.

Ward No. 4.—Messrs. E. F. Sveegan, J. M. Evans, and B. S. D. Muckenfuss.

Ward No. 5.—Messrs. P. M. Doucin, E. C. Keckley, and W. C. Finley.

Ward No. 6.—Messrs. C. Hickey, J. L. Honour, and J. G. Martin.

Ward No. 7.—Messrs. J. C. Bradley, E. Bradley, and J. W. Calvert.

Ward No. 8.—S. H. Prince, A. F. W. Abrahams, and W. C. Riggs.

Alderman STEINMEYER moved that the candidates announced be elected by acclamation, which was adopted, and on the question being put, the above named gentlemen were unanimously elected.

On motion of Alderman STEINMEYER, the Mayor was authorized, in case of the non-acceptance of the office by any of the gentlemen elected, to fill such vacancy.

On motion of Alderman ENSTON proper ballot boxes, secured with good locks, were ordered to be furnished to the Managers.

Alderman WHILDEN gave notice of his intention to introduce a bill to amend the Ordinance regulating the salary of the teacher of French in the High School, and asked that this be considered its first reading. Agreed to.

Alderman GERDTS, from Committee on Streets, made the following report:

The Committee on Streets recommended to Council, some time ago, the regular laying out of a section of land bounded south by Tradd-street, north by Broad, east by Logan, and west by a road owned by A. H. Chisolm, Esq.; the buildings are all destroyed, excepting one. The Committee then reported to have this section embodied, and running the streets parallel with the adjacent streets, which would give each lot-holder a well-formed lot.

This report was considered by Council and referred back to the Committee on Streets, for the purpose of reporting more fully, and to have a plan drawn, as was suggested. Your Committee now respectfully report, that many obstacles have appeared, and that they were not aware of at the time the first report was made, and they had neither map nor plat to be guided by; and the plat before you now is far from being complete, but is sufficient to show that the plan proposed then cannot be carried out to the advantage of the lot-holders, and on account of there being too many small lots, and many of them of a depth below one hundred feet, and nearly all the lots west of New-street and east of Savage-street have only a depth of very little more than one hundred feet, and as the laying out proposed would give the lots between New and Savage streets a depth of about one hundred and twenty-five feet, and the lots between New and Logan streets about two hundred feet, it will therefore be perceived that this plan could not be made satisfactory to the lot-holders generally.

But it certainly would reflect upon the good taste and enterprise of the people of Charleston, and be decided to the disadvantage of the city, to rebuild this portion in the old cornerwise way after all the buildings but one are gone and the place has been converted into an old field; so much so, that about one-third of these lots have been completely levelled, and the land made sterile, and the wayfarer has thought proper to choose his own roads, which he considered more direct and more convenient than the streets made by the city.

Your Committee therefore recommend that a meeting of the lot-holders be called by Council for the purpose of obtaining their consent, and for them to choose a board of trustees, to whom they might entrust all their lots, each of them taking a certificate for the same, stating the number of superficial feet that each plat or deed calls for, (and are actually there), naming the locality of each lot. The board of trustees may then adopt the plan recommended to Council the plan now proposed or any other plan which they, in their judgment, consider better.

After the streets and lots shall be laid out, all the lots shall be put up at auction, giving each lot or certificate-holder the right of sale, as he may like. The board of trustees may then adopt the plan recommended to Council the plan now proposed or any other plan which they, in their judgment, consider better.

On New and Savage streets there is nothing lost in widening for these streets are becoming much shorter, and therefore, what is lost in one way is made up in another; and as Broad street is not widened, of course there is no loss there.

There are no doubt many lots which have encumbrances on them, and others again belonging to minors. Let the trustees of the former remove the encumbrances can be removed; and as for the property belonging to minors, let application be made to the Court of Equity for the sale of this property. For if a double price should be obtained, at the expiration of seven years when what it might bring now, it would yet be to the advantage of these minors to sell now.

It should further be remembered that if there is no attraction offered to this portion of the city, it may remain in its present state for many years to come. For we have had examples of this kind in days of prosperity, when there was no lack of means to cause it. Many lots, the buildings of which were destroyed by the great fire of 1838, and were not rebuilt until ten or fifteen years after. And as we are almost sure of getting street cars next winter, which no doubt will have a tendency to move the town more toward the present suburbs, as has been the case in all cities where they have been introduced, and many of our prettiest and most pleasant parts may become neglected by it. But if this spot is taken in hand now, good wide streets made, beautiful shade trees planted (of which so many varieties are so well adapted to our climate), this, with a good large lot, on a good wide street, cannot fail to help considerably to have this portion rebuilt.

In conclusion, the Committee deem it not out of place to state that the proposal offered is not made for any selfish purposes. They would say to the landholders: "Don't deceive yourselves, and think that the city will purchase your property if you withhold your consent." The city has already its full share of debt; and besides that, if the city buys out the interest of those who are, perhaps, born and raised there, to whom should the city look for purchasers?

It is, therefore, very desirable for all that this plan, upon the whole, should be carried into effect; for those who wish to sell will have a much better chance to get more for their lots after they shall have been improved, especially when it is borne in mind that all the improvements contemplated are to be carried out at the expense of the city. (Signed) H. GERDTS.

J. M. BUTLER, J. B. OAKES, JAMES R. PRINGLE, JACOB SMALL.

Alderman MARSHALL, after complimenting the Chairman of the Committee on Streets, for the able manner in which he has discharged the arduous duties of his office, moved that the report be adopted, and that the Mayor be requested to invite the landholders in that portion of the city to meet the Committee on Streets, for the purpose of submitting to them the plan proposed. Adopted.

On motion, Council adjourned.

ALL PERSONS HAVING DEMANDS against the Estate of the late WM. H. MILLER will present them properly attested, and those indebted will make payment to EDWARD SEEBING, Administrator.
